*W*ith the blink of her eyes and the nod of her head, this beautiful, blonde genie summoned her magical powers and granted the every wish of her beloved master in the iconic television show, "I Dream of Jeannie." For many years, Barbara Eden made all of our wishes come true as she starred in one of the longest continuously running sitcoms on television. You see, she was much more than a 2,000 year old genie that had been found in a bottle on the beach by astronaut Tony Nelson, portrayed by actor Larry Hagman, who would go on to star as JR in Dallas. Jeannie represented everything the world was not in 1965...she was innocent, light-hearted, charming, fun-loving and passionate.

Each week, Americans waited excitedly in front of their television sets, for "I Dream of Jeannie," to 'blink them away' to the world of make believe that would leave them roaring with laughter and shaking their heads while wondering...how does Jeannie do that? Episodes such as "The Case of My Vanishing Master, Around the World in 80 Blinks, and Mrs. Djinn Djinn," were all created and produced by award-winning writer Sidney Sheldon, who along with his wife Alexandra, are featured in American ArtParades, from The Trail of Painted Ponies. "I Dream of Jeannie" is a classic television show that continues to be broadcast to adoring fans around the world.

Barbara Eden has been named one of "America's 200 Greatest Pop Culture Icons of the 20th Century" by People Magazine and one of TV Guide's "Most Popular Comedy Television Stars." Her extraordinary accomplishments have been honored with a "star" on the Hollywood Walk of Fame and she recently starred in "Love Letters" with Hal Linden. This spring, her much anticipated autobiography titled, "Jeannie, Out of the Bottle," will be published with great acclaim.

Believing in the power of dreams, Barbara Eden has created a stunning Painted Pony titled "Dreamcatcher," that is featured in the Celebrity Collection from The Trail of Painted Ponies. Born in Tucson, Arizona, Barbara Eden has always had a special appreciation for Native American arts and traditions. "Dreamcatcher" is her tribute to this rich heritage, "Jeannie Style."

Barbara would like each of us to realize that we have the power to make our hopes and dreams come true by believing in ourselves and in our dreams. Barbara Eden would like her fans and collectors to know that she is also a strong supporter of breast cancer awareness, research and treatment. A portion of the proceeds from "Dreamcatcher" figurines, which will be in fine retail stores in April 2011, will be donated to support worthy breast cancer awareness organizations. Thank you, Barbara Eden, for continuing to make dreams come true. This extraordinary generosity and compassion are why we will always Dream of Jeannie!
